Great Forest-Kotza Orman

An experiential role play

- The purpose of the game was to make students know the causes that can destroy the forest.
- Scenario of the game said:
 - some people wanted to destroy the forest and had left some secret messages there
- The students had to look for these messages and then read them and try to understand what they were saying.
- The messages of the game that the children had to find (in order not to find them ,those who would destroy the forest) were the following: a. rubbish is thrown to pollute the forest, b. people make noise which bothers birds and animals and causes them to leave and c. people cut trees.
