Summary:

Most students in the primary school in Pacanów are quite highly motivated. They willingly participate in a high number of after-school clubs due to their school's wide offer. Some of them consider a future career in the subject they are interested in. Active participation in the clubs enables them to learn new things, develop their creativity, spend time in the way they like and, last but not least, they feel their self-esteem is higher and that they have a purpose in life.
